

A pyramid diagram representing Maslow's hierarchy of needs. The pyramid is divided into six horizontal layers. From top to bottom, the layers are: 1. Self-Transcending Peak Experiences (purple, inverted triangle), 2. Self Actualisation (purple, inverted triangle), 3. Self Esteem (green, inverted triangle), 4. Need for Love (orange, inverted triangle), 5. Need for Security (blue, inverted triangle), and 6. Physiological Needs (light purple, inverted triangle). The top layer is inverted, while the others are upright. The text is centered in each layer.

Maslow:
Self-Transcending
Peak Experiences

© Zen.nl

Self
Actualisation

Self Esteem

Need for Love

Need for Security

Physiological Needs